Jane Chapman, contemporary harpsichordist extraordinaire, joins forces with guitarist Tom McKinney, pianist Harvey Davies and the Ensemble Pleyel for an extravagant ending to the 2012 Tatton Park Biennial, Flights of Fancy. Taking inspiration from the stunning Music Room installation by Biennial artist Aura Satz, the musicians treat the entire house as sounding frame for an exploration of new and old musical fantasy. The programme features a new collaboration between Jane Chapman and Aura Satz and world premieres of works by composers Larry Goves and Leo Grant, as well as eighteenth-century music from Tatton Park's outstanding historic musical collection.
